

	Changes to the Constitution.
	To choose a person to do a job.
	Ten amendments that list the freedoms and responsibilities that the people of the United States will always have.
	A government building in a capital city.
	A person who lives in and belongs to community.
	The legislative branch of the national government.
	Something that happens because of what a person does.
	To work together.
	A group of people chosen to make laws.
	A section of a state.

The city or town where the main government offices of the county are located.

A place where a judge and jury decide if a person has broken the law.

To choose by voting.

The branch of government that sees that the laws are obeyed.

Work that is done by the government for everyone in a city or town.

The elected leader of a state's government.

A person from the community who is chosen to work as a leader in the courts.

The branch of government that decides if laws are fair

A rule that a community makes.

The branch of government that makes laws.

If more than half the people vote for the same thing or person, they get what they want.

A leader of a community government.

A smaller group that did not vote for the same thing or did not choose the same person still get to keep their rights

The title given to the leader of the United States of America.

Services performed by a department of a community government that meet day-to day needs.

Any activity, hobby, or sport done for enjoyment.

A person chosen by a group to act or speak for them.

Freedoms

The judicial branch of the national government and the most important court in the United States.

The money that citizens pay to run the government and provide services.